True Treasure by Opening the Word

First Reading -- Your ancestors waited in faith and courage for God's promised summons (Wisdom 18:6-9).

This passage comes from the third part of the Book of Wisdom (10–19), which is an interpretive poetic commentary on the way that Wisdom is disclosed in the history of Israel. This is contrasted to the foolishness of polytheism and idolatry. In this case, the Egyptian idolaters are confounded by the secret sacrifices, the Passover Lamb, of the children of Israel. This unblemished young ram, the blood of which was placed on the doorposts of their houses to protect them from the death of the firstborn of Egypt, harkens back to the sacrificial ram that Abraham had been given to ransom or replace his firstborn son, Isaac, in Genesis 22.

So the Israelites had seen “beforehand,” not just the description of the conduct of the Passover ritual as God wanted to carry it out in Egypt, but they had seen it beforehand in the actions of their ancient forebear Abraham, who had trusted God, saying to Isaac, “God will provide himself the lamb for a burnt offering, my son” (Genesis 22:8, RSV). And so it was that “with sure knowledge of the oaths in which they put their faith, they might have courage.” Like them, we, too, have been given the oath (the Latin for oath is sacramentum) in which we put our trust, the Holy Eucharist, the “Lamb of God who takes away the sins of the world” that we might have courage.

Second Reading -- Because of his faithful obedience to God's call, Abraham's descendants number as the stars (Hebrews 11:1-2, 8-19 [1-2, 8-12]).

In this reading we see the famous definition of faith as “the realization of what is hoped for and the evidence of things not seen.” The author of Hebrews connects it clearly to the virtue of hope, which the Catechism defines as that theological virtue “by which we desire the kingdom of heaven and eternal life as our happiness.” That is, faith enables us to realize the eternal happiness we hope for, even though we may not yet see it. So faith has, as a constituent part of its makeup, that trust which enables us to strive for a promise without seeing it.

But the rest of this passage from Hebrews 11 shows us that this trust isn't usually a blind trust for an entirely blind faith. God has given us many examples of faith to help us see in the past what remains unclear in our own future. Hebrews 11 is a chronicle of faith listing many characters from Israel's past who braved all kinds of trials to inherit the promise that only comes to be fulfilled in Christ. Here the examples given are Abraham and Sarah for whom God did the impossible, bringing forth fruit in two who were well beyond child-bearing, and then of whom he asked the unthinkable in the offering of that son,

Discuss

Isaac, in sacrifice. Faith enables us to go forward in darkness, yes, but that is because God has thrown so much light behind us in the past heroes of faith, enabling us to hope in what we cannot yet see.

Gospel -- Keep watch and be prepared, for you do not know the day or the hour when the Son of Man will appear (Luke 12:32-48 [35-40]).

Jesus here instructs his disciples on the skills required for being a watchman, someone who is prepared for the Lord's return. First, we are to live in the kingdom, not relying on earthly treasure but on that heavenly treasure that is won by almsgiving. We are also to be vigilant, awake, dressed, and attentive for his coming. The Catechism says that vigilance at prayer is "custody of the heart" (CCC 2849) and that "in prayer the disciple keeps watch, attentive to Him Who Is and Him Who Comes, in memory of his first coming in the lowliness of the flesh, and in the hope of his second coming in glory" (CCC 2612).

And for those who are entrusted with the "stewardship" of the Church, or what Jesus calls, "all [the master's] property," they must also be sure to be vigilant in supplying the needs of the other servants, "to distribute the food allowance at the proper time" and in not abusing the privileges of office or those over which they exercise it. The whole of Christian history, the history of the Church, is the story of the great night watch. At this point in our collective journey through time, "salvation is nearer to us now than when we first believed" and "the night is far gone, the day is at hand," (Romans 13:11-12, RSV). We can't be sure if we are "in the second or third watch" of that night, but the proper Christian stance in any age is that of watchfulness, of earnest Christian living in faith, hope, and love.

Meditation

This week's readings are about discovering our true treasures. So let me ask you: If your house was on fire and you could only take out three things (in addition to the people in your home!), what would they be and why?

In the Gospel reading, Jesus says, "For where your treasure is, there also will your heart be." What things in your life do you truly treasure; in other words, what do you spend most of your time, energy, and attention on? Do these things that you treasure—that you spend time and energy on—reflect what is truly most important in life?

The biblical understanding of almsgiving is giving a loan to God ["He who has compassion on the poor lends to the LORD, and he will repay him for his good deed." Proverbs 19:17]. How is almsgiving like giving a loan to God and what does God do with your "loan"? What does Jesus promise to do to those who generously give him a loan to help the poor and those in need?

Use a journal to write down your thoughts, reflections and your resolutions. Share and discuss them with a friend or in a small group.

Special Intentions

For all those who are celebrating a birthday in August, we offer prayers of thanksgiving for the gift of their lives.

For the financial means necessary for our parish's mission to celebrate the Sacraments, grow disciples and bring Christ to people.

That parishioners who are parents be inspired by the Holy Spirit to register their children for Faith Formation and Confirmation programs.

For those who are at the earliest stage of seeking God, that they may find answers among the ministries at St Michael's.

For our clergy, and for an increase in vocations.

For our visitors, that they may find a welcome home-away-from-home at St Michael's.

For those who have been hurt by misguided members of the church, that they receive healing and consolation.

For those who are sick in body and mind.

For Fernando Castro to be healed from lymphoma in the brain.

For Jorge Sierra who is hospitalized and very ill.

For our friends and family who are in recovery from addiction, and especially for those who are still enslaved by addiction.

Your Loan to God

If you already give regular offerings to St Michael's, thank you. Your gifts are what make the operation of the parish possible.

If St Michael's is your home parish, and you have not yet set up regular offerings, here are a few things to know:

1. St Michael's does not receive money from the Diocese or the Vatican. In fact, it's the opposite. We support the Diocese of Oakland. The money that we receive to run the parish comes from the Sunday collection.

2. The parish needs about $22,000 each week just for the bare-bones operational cost of providing for the spiritual needs of thousands of people. It must cover the PG&E bill, the cost of ministries, toner for the copier... everything.

3. This does not include any growth. The weekly goal does not leave extra money for new improvements for the facilities or ministries. So if you've ever thought, "Why doesn't St Michael's..."

often the answer is that we have not received enough offerings to afford it.

7/17/16 Collection: $15,904.48
7/24/16 Collection: $19,986.73
7/31/16 Collection: $15,040.11

On August 14, the 9:30 Mass assembly will have the privilege of going out to meet and accompany an inquirer as she crosses the threshold and begins her journey to the waters of baptism. All will be invited to gather before Mass by the front steps. Our liturgy will begin outside that day with the Rite of Acceptance.

Lecturas del domingo y reflexiones

Primera lectura

Tus antepasados esperaron con fe y valor el cumplimiento de las promesas de Dios (Sabiduría 18:6-9).

Salmo

Dichoso el pueblo escogido por Dios (Salmo 33 [32]).

Segunda lectura

A causa de la fidelidad al llamado de Dios, los descendientes de Abraham son tan numerosos como las estrellas (Hebreos 11:1-2, 8-19 [1-2, 8-12]).

Evangelio

Estén alerta y preparados porque no saben ni el día ni la hora en que el Hijo del hombre aparecerá (Lucas 12:32-48 [35-40]).

FE Y ESPERANZA

Nuestra fe consiste en esperar por aquello que no vemos. Pues si sabemos lo que viene, no lo estaríamos esperando, sino sabiendo que es lo que viene. Esperamos en Cristo la llegada del reino de Dios, la restauración de todas las buenas y maravillosas cosas; y nuestra promesa de salvación. Toda la ansiedad puede desaparecer con las simples palabras de Jesús "No temas, rebañito mío, porque tu Padre ha tenido a bien darte el Reino". ¿Que otras palabras podrían dar más ánimos en aquellos momentos cuando nos preguntamos si hemos sido administradores buenos o malos de lo que se nos ha confiado?

MALA ADMINISTRACIÓN

Cualquier persona que haya alcanzado la mayoría de edad para trabajar probablemente ha experimentado lo que es trabajar con un mal jefe. Quizá ese jefe no conoce como fomentar la productividad de una manera gentil y entendible sin ser abusiva. Quizá ese jefe es un hostigador, causando desánimo y una moral pobre con los trabajadores, para que muchos renuncien a causa de que no lo pueden soportar. Quizá ese jefe no sabe como administrar la improductividad y personas perturbadoras en la oficina, u otros son los hostigadores. Ese administrador "empieza a maltratar a los criados y las criadas, a comer, a beber y a embriagarse".

Pero cada jefe a su vez tiene un jefe. Y aquí Cristo es el Maestro que vendrá en un momento inesperado, y si él encuentra al administrador sin trabajar bien e indigno de confianza, él corregirá de la mejor manera. Cristo vendrá en un momento que no sabemos; ponemos nuestra fe y nuestra esperanza en su misericordia. Pero cuando dudamos de nosotros mismos tenemos esas palabras de Jesús, asegurándonos que ya el Padre nos ha dado el reino. No debemos tener miedo. Solo necesitamos estar conscientes de la misericordia de Cristo y conducirnos de manera gentil, cortés y generosa con los demás. En efecto, podemos tener paz.
