STUDY

Summary

We begin our Lenten readings in a most appropriate place: the desert. In the desert, life is stripped to basics and everything, including our weakness, is exposed. We are forced to stand alone and vulnerable before God.

Our faith is put to the test. Little wonder, then, that Jesus went to the desert to fast and pray before plunging into his public works. It's there, amid the rocks and reptiles, that the devil comes to him with three temptations. When we read about the temptations, it's easy for us to dismiss them as having no relevance to our own lives. When was the last time you were tempted to change stones to bread, for instance?

While the specifics of the temptations don't resonate with us, the lure of pushing God aside, of making him secondary in our lives, lies at their heart—and that is a common temptation for all of us. For example, when we struggle with daily concerns of how to pay our bills or provide for our families, we are tempted to turn from God's way and pursue our own path. That's, in a sense, what the devil was suggesting to Jesus when he told him to turn stones to bread.

The same is true with the other two temptations. The devil was urging Jesus to prove his divinity by jumping off a building. We often want God to prove he is God by giving us exactly what we want, when we want it. And just as the devil tempted Jesus with the glory and power of this world, so he tempts us, deep down, to crave power, wealth, and fame and the lifestyle they provide. We are drawn to the ways of the world and both covertly and overtly deny our faith if we think we can get away with it.

This Lent, we are called to remember the primacy of God and to turn to him in our moments of weakness and need.

First Reading Reflection Genesis 2:7–9; 3:1–7

It is fitting that on the First Sunday of Lent we hear about the first sin of mankind. Adam and Eve exhibit shame and try to avoid God's presence after they eat the forbidden fruit. But within eight verses of the story of the Fall, we see the fruit of that first sin in the murder of Abel by Cain. The whole flow of the Old Testament describes the consequences of the Fall. The repeated interventions by God in human history are explicitly aimed at rectifying the subsequent disobedience and sin and building a renewed relationship between God and Israel and amongst the Israelites themselves through what's called the Covenant. It was this sense that something was amiss that gave rise to the messianic longings of the people of Israel. The people had to be delivered, even if they weren't quite sure what to call the thing that oppressed them.

So we struggle with sin as sons and daughters of Adam and Eve. That struggle didn't end with the coming of Christ. Although God has promised us the grace to combat sin in our lives, we're still Israel, a name which means "struggle." Lent is that time during the liturgical year when we take up that struggle with special earnestness.

Second Reading Reflection Romans 5:12–19

St Paul's correlation between Adam and Christ is far more than just a description of the mechanics of salvation (i.e., Adam broke it and Jesus fixed it). St. Paul's experience of the risen Lord on the road to Damascus apparently set working in him a complete reassessment of the whole of biblical history in light of the remarkable event which was Christ. Once he recognized Christ as the fulfillment of his Judaism, Paul began to see Christ everywhere in the Old Testament.

That tendency to read the Old Testament in the light of Christ is something that the Church has done ever since. Those associations are made particularly in the liturgy which pairs the readings from the two Testaments to draw parallels between Christ and the figures and events from Israel's history. In the liturgy we, too, are incorporated into that unification of all things in Christ that St. Paul recognized as the center of the Good News. We repeat and share in the trials and triumphs of the Old Testament from Adam to Ezra as we read those stories and then apply to ourselves the victory of Christ over sin through the sacraments he left us.

Gospel Reflection

Matthew 4:1–11

Mathew is intent on showing us that Jesus is the fulfillment of Jewish hopes and prophecy. And the Church has specifically paired our first reading and this Gospel passage to highlight certain parallels between the Old and New Testaments. The most obvious is that both are temptation scenes: the first successful (Adam and Eve), and the second unsuccessful (Jesus defeats Satan). But if we look a little closer, we can see another close parallel.

Both Eve and Jesus are tempted with food, death, and power. This threefold temptation bests Eve in the absence of Adam. But in the second temptation, the new Adam is the subject of the temptation and the future Eve, the Church, is at a safe distance. Interestingly, in chapters 26, 27, and 28 of Matthew, Jesus will successfully give food to his followers in the Eucharist, will go to his death on the Cross, and receive power from the Father in his Resurrection. What Jesus refused to the devil at the beginning of Matthew's Gospel, he gives freely at the end of his Gospel. Ironically, what Satan promised to Eve and could not deliver, Jesus offers freely to the new Eve, the Church, in the Paschal Mystery.

Reflect & Discuss

In this week's Opening the Word video (available free on FORMED.org), we will see how the temptations of Jesus are really the same kind of temptations we all face. You may want to take some notes on what the presenter is saying for your discussion.

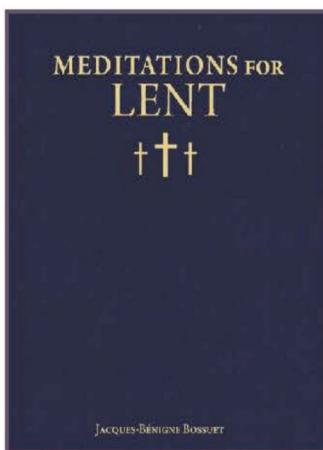

In the first temptation, the devil urges Jesus to turn stones to bread. What is this temptation really all about?

In the second temptation, the devil tells Jesus to throw himself off the temple and let angels rescue him. What is this temptation really all about?

In the third temptation, the devil tells Jesus he can have all the power of the world if he will bow down in worship. What is this temptation about?

Prayer

Picture Jesus sitting beside you and saying the same three responses he gave to the devil. He says: “One does not live on bread alone, / but on every word that comes forth / from the mouth of God.” “You shall not put the Lord, your God, to the test.” “The Lord, your God, shall you worship / and him alone shall you serve.” Which of these three responses of Jesus speaks the most to you and your life right now? How so?

Resolution

Considering the statement of Jesus that relates most to your life now, find at least one practical way to implement Jesus’ teaching this week.

Special Intentions

For our teen Confirmation candidates who are on retreat, that they may encounter Christ as they prepare to be sealed in the Holy Spirit.

For our 65 Alpha guests who are meeting on Mondays to explore the Christian faith, that they may grow in relationship with Jesus.

For the repose of souls (for upcoming funerals, please check StMichaelLivermore.com/Funerals)

FROM FR CARL

Dear St Michael Family,

During the season of Lent, we think about the Sacrament of Penance (also called Reconciliation or Confession). As Catholics, this is one of the sacraments that we can receive frequently to restore our marred relationship with God. Amazingly, God has designed this sacrament for us as a fount of His Mercy, a refuge for the brokenhearted and source of peace. In Confession, Jesus wipes away our sins and restores our relationship to the Father. He also gifts us with graces that strengthen us against temptations to sin again.

The Church, in the Second Precept, requires that "You shall confess your sins at least once a year." Strictly speaking, we only need to take part in the Sacrament of Confession if we have committed a mortal sin, but the Church urges us to make frequent use of the sacrament. At the very minimum, we are to receive it once each year in preparation for fulfilling our Easter Duty.

This Sacrament was instituted by Christ Himself after He resurrected:

"He showed them his hands and his side. Then the disciples were glad when they saw the Lord.

Jesus said to them again, "Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, even so I send you."

And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and said to them, "Receive the Holy Spirit. If you forgive the sins of any, they are forgiven; if you retain the sins of any, they are retained." ( John 20:20-23)

My invitation for you all is to avail yourselves of the Sacrament during Lent.

Take the opportunity. God is waiting to heal you, forgive you, embrace you and give you peace. Please check the following dates and times of our confessions:

March 9, 16 and 23 at 7:00 pm

Mondays & Fridays at 7:30 am

Wednesdays at 2:30 pm
(Convent)

Saturdays at 9:15 am, 3:45 pm,
6:15 pm

Confession is not available the week of April 6, so please plan ahead.

I hope you are enjoying our parish video study so far and that it is helping you experience a powerful Lent. Please watch episode 3 this week (see below).

God bless you and your families.

Fr Carl

Consoling the Heart of Jesus: Episode 3

Obstacle 0: How Can We Console Jesus if He Is Happy in Heaven?

You may be one of those people for whom the testimony of St. Margaret Mary (and other mystics of the Church) is enough. You may be one of those people who say, "I believe that Jesus revealed the deep and ongoing sorrow of his Sacred Heart through St. Margaret Mary, and I want to console him." If, however, you're one of those people for whom the very idea that we can console Jesus raises difficulties, then this session is primarily for you.

Watch this week's episode on FORMED.org. For a complete episode list, see StMichaelLivermore.com/FORMED

Querida familia de San Miguel,

Durante la temporada de Cuaresma, pensamos en el Sacramento de la Penitencia (también llamado Reconciliación o Confesión). Como católicos, este es uno de los sacramentos que podemos recibir con frecuencia para restaurar nuestra relación estropeada con Dios. Sorprendentemente, Dios ha diseñado este sacramento para nosotros como fuente de Su Misericordia, un refugio para los quebrantados de corazón y fuente de paz. En la confesión, Jesús limpia nuestros pecados y restaura nuestra relación con el Padre. También nos regala gracias que nos fortalecen contra las tentaciones de pecar nuevamente.

La Iglesia, en el Segundo Precepto, requiere que "confieses tus pecados al menos una vez al año". Estrictamente hablando, solo necesitamos participar en el Sacramento de la Confesión si hemos cometido un pecado mortal, pero la Iglesia nos insta a hacer un uso frecuente del sacramento. Como mínimo, debemos recibirllo una vez al año en preparación para cumplir con nuestro Deber de Pascua.

Este sacramento fue instituido por Cristo mismo después de resucitar:

"Les mostró las manos y el costado. Entonces los discípulos se alegraron cuando vieron al Señor. Jesús les dijo de nuevo: "La paz sea con ustedes. Como el Padre me ha enviado, así yo los envío a ustedes". Y cuando hubo dicho esto, sopló sobre ellos y les dijo: "Recibid el Espíritu Santo. Si perdonas los pecados de cualquiera, ellos son perdonados; si retienes los pecados de cualquiera, ellos son retenidos". (Juan 20: 20-23) Les invito a todos a aprovechar el Sacramento durante la Cuaresma.

Toma la oportunidad. Dios está esperando para curarlo, perdonarlo, abrazarlo y darte paz. Por favor, consulte las siguientes fechas y horas de nuestras confesiones:

9, 16 y 23 de marzo a las 7:00 p.m.

Lunes y viernes a las 7:30 a.m.
Miércoles a las 2:30 pm
(Convento)

Sábados a las 9:15 a.m., 3:45 p.m., 6:15 p.m.

La confesión no está disponible la semana del 6 de abril, por favor planifique con anticipación.

Planee asistir al Retiro de Cuaresma el 21 y 22 de marzo de 8:30 a.m. a 5:00 p.m. en el Salón.

Dios los bendiga a ustedes y a sus familias.

P. Carl
