Unpack Today's Mass Readings

Evangelization is not a job assigned only to bishops, priests, and religious brothers and sisters. Pope Paul VI insisted that the “task of evangelizing all people constitutes the essential mission of the Church.” And by “the Church,” he meant the Church as a whole—everyone, including the laity. But for many of us, the work of evangelization sounds scary. We might be thinking,

“Me? Evangelize? How do I do that?”

We might even be wondering what evangelization means.

Today’s Gospel reading gives us some answers because Jesus presents a formula for the best way to evangelize and spread the Gospel message. This formula involves both a giving and receiving of Christ’s mission. We give when we spread his message with joy and gratitude, and we receive when we can rest in the peace of Christ, knowing that we have fully accepted God’s words in our hearts.

What Jesus is telling the disciples, and by extension all of us, is that we are to bring to all the nations the blessing of God that had been given first to Israel. When we do that, we share in God’s own peace and joy. How peaceful we are says how much we have accepted Jesus in our hearts. The extent to which we share our faith is the extent to which we share the joy of God.

Unpack the First Reading Isaiah 66:10-14c

In this passage from the last chapter of the prophet Isaiah, we get a vision of Jerusalem as the mother of the remnant, those who survive the tribulations of

Isaiah 66:7 uses the image of labor pains. Those who have suffered the tribulations of invasion and exile are invited to see these as labor unto birth. And, in fact, the author seems to suggest a birth like that which is traditionally assigned to Mary: “Before she was in labor she gave birth; before her pain came upon her she was delivered of a son” (RSV). At that time, the Body of Christ, the Church, will be delivered from her trials and they will give way to a time (or an eternity) when our “bodies flourish like the grass” and we are cared for by our loving God “as a mother comforts her child.” May his kingdom come!

Unpack the Second Reading Galatians 6:14-18

In St. Paul’s letter as in the first reading, we have an ending. St. Paul closes his letter to the Galatians by returning to basics. The argument he has been making is that God’s work in the people of Israel has given birth to something new in Christ, who in his death has signaled the end of the obligations of that older covenant and announced the establishment of a new one in him. In this sense, not only has that older order been transformed into a new one, but the whole of the

“Let all the earth cry out to God with joy!” Psalm 66

"world has been crucified to me," Paul says, "and I to the world." That yields not just a new religious system or set of rules but a "new creation." To nature has been added a super nature, a grace, about the full effects of which Revelation says, "Behold, I make all things new" (21:5); It is "a rule," he says, that has made meaningless circumcision or uncircumcision, the old signs of being a Jew or Gentile. This new rule bears "peace and mercy" for us.

Finally, there is some controversy among scholars as to whether the "Israel of God" he refers to here is a reference to the Jews or to the Christian Church as a kind of new Israel of God. But in one sense, that confusion can be instructive. His whole argument has been that the older has given birth to the new and that God's plan is a unity in which the deep mysteries of Israel and its history are now brought to light in Christ and his Church. The whole point of Galatians is, in fact, that in the Church there is no longer Jew and Gentile but only the one Israel of God.

Unpack the Gospel Luke 10:1-12, 17-20

In addition to the Twelve, Jesus also appoints seventy or seventy-two others to serve, we might say, as "advance men" for his own ministry.* But by their very number we see that the "kingdom of God" that Jesus instructs them to announce means that the role of Israel—especially through a messianic figure that Isaiah calls the servant of Yahweh—to be "a light to the nations" is coming to fulfillment (Isaiah 42:6 and 49:6). In Jewish tradition, seventy (or seventy-two) is the number of the nations descended from Noah and his sons after the flood (Genesis 10) and the number of the offspring of Jacob who went with him into Egypt (Exodus 1:5).

Deuteronomy 32:8 even seems to connect these two, saying, "When the Most High gave to the nations their inheritance, when he separated the sons of men, he fixed the bounds of the peoples according to the number of the sons of God [that is, Jacob]" (RSV). So the seventy of Israel is God's "portion" (Deuteronomy 32:9) of the seventy nations, and specially set aside for his purpose to bring the truth of his covenant love (Isaiah 42:6) to the world. As Isaiah 49:6 (RSV) puts it, "I will give you as a light to the nations, that my salvation may reach to the end of the earth." When Jesus sends out these new elders of Israel, he is telling his people that the kingdom, now "at hand," will reach to the nations!

Discuss & Reflect

Watch the Opening the Word video at StMichael.FORMED.org. Then reflect and discuss the following questions:

According to the presenter, what is the formula for evangelization that Jesus provides his disciples? How can we embrace this formula in our lives as well?

What is the significance of the "peace" the disciples would offer in their evangelization? Why should this be cause for rejoicing?

Prayer Meditation

Place yourself with the disciples as Jesus prepares to send them out for mission. Listen carefully to the instructions of Jesus.

- Carry no money bag, no sack, no sandals; and greet no one along the way.
- Eat and drink what is offered to you, for the laborer deserves his payment.
- Cure the sick and say to them, “The kingdom of God is at hand for you.”

As you hear these words, what is going through your mind? What part is the hardest for you to accept? Why? Now ask yourself, “Am I fully committed to receiving the message of Christ and sharing that message with others? Do I believe that I am capable of doing what Jesus is asking?” Ask Jesus to show you the areas in your life where you do not fully receive and share the message of Christ. Listen for a prompting of the Holy Spirit in response to your prayer.

Resolution

Choose one area of your life where it is difficult for you to joyfully witness to Christ’s peace. Ask Jesus for the grace to live more joyfully in that area and make steps this week to do so.

Prayer Requests

Please let our Parish Prayer Team pray for you. Send your requests to Prayers@StMichaelLivermore.com. You are also invited to write your prayer intentions in the book of intentions located just inside the Adoration Chapel.

Fr Carl's Message of the Week

Faith Formation For All Ages

Dear St Michael Family,

My vision for faith formation is to see all parishioners taking an active role in their continual spiritual growth, and parents leading the formation of their children. The parish and the home together must be the focus of spiritual life and growth as disciples of Jesus. In both places, adults and children will grow in their relationship with Jesus and be given spiritual gifts that will make for a lifetime of joy, peace and purpose. We aim to develop these ten qualities in parishioners of all ages:

- 1. God as #1 in Our Lives
- 2. Lifestyle of Selflessness and sacrifice, humility and modesty
- 4. Obedience to the Commandments and teachings of His Holy Church
- 5. Attitude of Detached from the worldly things
- 6. Living as a Light to the World
- 7. Witnesses and celebrates faith outwardly and inwardly
- 8. Behaving lovingly and compassionately
- 9. Carrying life's sufferings with Christ
- 10. Embracing the Eucharist as the center and summit of life

We have so many opportunities for faith formation in our parish. Please see the list for kids, teens and adults on page 8.

I personally ask our parents to register their children today for programs that begin in the fall. And if you haven't already done so, please register for your free FORMED account by visiting StMichael.FORMED.org and following the steps.

May God bless you and your families.

The Domestic Church

"Catholic parents must learn to form their family as a 'domestic church,' a church in the home as it were, where God is honored, his law is respected, prayer is a normal event, virtue is transmitted by word and example, and everyone shares the hopes, the problems and sufferings of everyone else." - St Pope John Paul II

Mensaje de la semana del Padre Carl

Formación de fe para todas las edades

Querida familia de San Miguel,

Mi visión para la formación en la fe es ver a todos los feligreses desempeñando un papel activo en su continuo crecimiento espiritual, y a los padres liderando la formación de sus hijos. La parroquia y el hogar juntos deben ser el foco de la vida espiritual y el crecimiento como discípulos de Jesús. En ambos lugares, los adultos y los niños crecerán en su relación con Jesús y recibirán dones espirituales que harán toda una vida de gozo, paz y propósito. Nuestro objetivo es desarrollar estas diez cualidades en los feligreses de todas las edades:

- 1. Dios como el # 1 en nuestras vidas
- 2. Estilo de vida de desinterés y sacrificio, humildad y modestia.
- 4. Obediencia a los mandamientos y enseñanzas de la santa iglesia
- 5. Actitud de desprendimiento de las cosas mundanas
- 6. Vivir como una luz para el mundo
- 7. Testificar y celebrar la fe externa e internamente
- 8. Comportarse con amor y compasión
- 9. Llevar los sufrimientos de la vida con Cristo
- 10. Abrazar la Eucaristía como centro y cumbre de la vida

Tenemos muchas oportunidades para la formación de fe en nuestra parroquia. Consulte la lista para niños, adolescentes y adultos en la página 8.

Personalmente les pido a los padres que registren a sus hijos hoy para los programas que comienzan en el otoño. Y si aún no lo han hecho, regístrense para obtener su cuenta gratuita FORMED visitando StMichael.FORMED.org y siguiendo los pasos.

Que Dios los bendiga a ustedes y a sus familias
