Unpack Today's Mass Readings

Jesus says, "For where your treasure is, there also your heart will be." What this really boils down to is asking, "What are your priorities? What is most important in your life?" This is a very difficult challenge for people in our modern culture today because there are so many distractions and temptations that can easily take us away from what is most important.

Unpack the First Reading Wisdom 18:6-9

This passage comes from the third part of the Book of Wisdom (10-19), which is an interpretive poetic commentary on the way that Wisdom is disclosed in the history of Israel. This is contrasted to the foolishness of polytheism and idolatry. In this case, the Egyptian idolaters are confounded by the secret sacrifices, the Passover Lamb, of the children of Israel. This unblemished young ram, the blood of which was placed on the doorposts of their houses to protect them from the death of the firstborn of Egypt, harkens back to the sacrificial ram that Abraham had been given to ransom or replace his firstborn son, Isaac, in Genesis 22.

So the Israelites had seen "beforehand," not just the description of the conduct of the Passover ritual as God wanted to carry it out in Egypt, but they had seen it beforehand in the actions of their ancient forebear Abraham, who had trusted God, saying to Isaac, "God will provide himself the lamb for a burnt offering, my son" (Genesis 22:8, RSV). And so it was that "with sure knowledge of the oaths in which they put their faith, they might have courage." Like them, we, too, have been given the oath (the Latin for oath is sacramentum) in which we put our trust, the Holy Eucharist, the "Lamb of God who takes away the sins of not yet see it. So faith has, as a constituent part of its makeup, that trust which enables us to strive for a promise without seeing it.

But the rest of this passage from Hebrews 11 shows us that this trust isn't usually a blind trust for an entirely blind faith. God has given us many examples of faith to help us see in the past what remains unclear in our own future. Hebrews 11 is a chronicle of faith listing many characters from Israel's past who braved all kinds of trials to inherit the promise that only comes to be fulfilled in Christ. Here the examples given are Abraham and Sarah for whom God did the impossible, bringing forth fruit in two the world" that we might have courage.

Unpack the Second Reading Hebrews 11:1-2, 8-19

In this reading we see the famous definition of faith as "the realization of what is hoped for and the evidence of things not seen." The author of Hebrews connects it clearly to the virtue of hope, which the Catechism defines as that theological virtue "by which we desire the kingdom of heaven and eternal life as our happiness." That is, faith enables us to realize the eternal happiness we hope for, even though we may who were well beyond child-bearing, and then of whom he asked the unthinkable in the offering of that son, Isaac, in sacrifice. Faith enables us to go forward in darkness, yes, but that is because God has thrown so much light behind us in the past heroes of faith, enabling us to hope in what we cannot yet see.

Unpack the Gospel Luke 12:32-48

Jesus here instructs his disciples on the skills required for being a watchman, someone who is prepared for the Lord's return. First, we are to live in the kingdom, not relying on earthly treasure but on that heavenly treasure that is won by almsgiving. We are also to be vigilant, awake, dressed, and attentive for his coming. The Catechism says that vigilance at prayer is "custody of the heart" (CCC 2849) and that "in prayer the disciple keeps watch, attentive to Him Who Is and Him Who Comes, in memory of his first coming in the lowliness of the flesh, and in the hope of his second coming in glory" (CCC 2612).

And for those who are entrusted with the "stewardship" of the Church, or what Jesus calls, "all [the master's] property," they must also be sure to be vigilant in supplying the needs of the other servants, "to distribute the food allowance at the proper time" and in not abusing the privileges of office or those over which they exercise it. The whole of Christian history, the history of the Church, is the story of the great night watch. At this point in our collective journey through time, "salvation is nearer to us now than when we first believed" and "the night is far gone, the day is at hand," (Romans 13:11-12, RSV). We can't be sure if we are "in the second or third watch" of that night, but the proper Christian stance in any age is that of watchfulness, of earnest Christian living in faith, hope, and love.

Reflect & Discuss

Watch the Opening the Word video "True Treasure" on StMichael.FORMED.org

In the Gospel reading, Jesus says, "For where your treasure is, there also will your heart be." What things in your life do you truly treasure; in other words, what do you spend most of your time, energy, and attention on? Do these things that you treasure—that you spend time and energy on—reflect what is truly most important in life?

In the video, the biblical understanding of almsgiving was presented as giving a loan to God ["He who has compassion on the poor lends to the LORD, and he will repay him for his good deed." Proverbs 19:17]. How is almsgiving like giving a loan to God and what does God do with your "loan"? What does Jesus promise to do to those who generously give him a loan to help the poor and those in need?

The Call to Almsgiving

"But if we are not able to give to those who must depend on the charity of others for their sustenance, it is an act of Christian piety, as well as a means of avoiding idleness, to procure by our labor and industry what is necessary for the relief of the poor. To this the apostle exhorts all by his own example. For yourselves, he says to the Thessalonians, know how you ought to imitate us; and again, writing to the same people: Use your endeavor to be quiet, and that you do your own business, and work with your own hands, as we commanded you; and to the Ephesians: He that stole, let him steal no more; but rather let him labor working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have something to give to him that suffers need."

Prayer Meditation

Place yourself in the scene of the Gospel reading. Imagine that Jesus is coming up to you and asking, "What is your treasure?" How do you respond? Now imagine that he says to you, "Sell your belongings and give alms." What is your first reaction to his words? Are you excited? Scared? Angry? Sad? Thrilled? Ask Jesus to open your heart to him and fill it with his love and generosity to enable you not only to better see those who are in need but also to give generously to them.

Resolution

What can you begin to do this week to share your treasures with those in need, both through financial gifts and the other gifts God has given you?

Weekly Prayer for Alpha

For our parishioners, that the Holy Spirit may guide and strengthen us in shifting our culture to one of radical hospitality. That God may put the name of one person in our hearts and minds that He wants us to invite to Alpha on September 9.

For all of our soon-to-be guests at Alpha, that God may continue to direct them toward our dinner events where they will encounter Jesus.

For our Alpha team, that they may empty themselves so as to only do God's will in inviting souls to Him.

Fr Carl's Message of the Week

Alpha: Build a Relationship

I'm sure we all can picture the worst example of a Christian evangelizer. That guy on the street corner who yells at pedestrians that the world is about to end. That person who is rude, judgmental and so very fond of being "right" all the time. These examples are not true methods of Christian evangelization, because they come from a place of anger and bullying and narcissism. Sadly, as Christians, we have falsely lumped all forms of evangelization into this one negative category.

True Christian evangelization begins from a place of love and respect, prayer and trust.

Firstly, we must shift our perspective to seeing other people as uniquely created in God's own image. No matter what circumstances the person is in, no matter what choices he or she has made. Christian love is loving like Christ. It's seeing not through stereotypes and profiling but noticing their true human dignity. We must respect that – no matter how many flaws – that Jesus loves this person enough to die for. And Jesus certainly knows better than any of us do!

Secondly, we must be dedicated to our prayer life, and keep a constant conversation going with God. We must faithfully receive the Sacraments of Eucharist and Reconciliation, always striving to grow in holiness. When we do, our spiritual ears will be tuned to hearing the Holy Spirit's voice. It is through Him that we will know when to speak about our faith and to whom. It is the Holy Spirit who will guide us when to act. Then we must trust in Him that He will do the job of converting. Our job is only to invite and share our story and joy of how we were before encountering Jesus, and how we are now because of Him.

Lastly, leading with love and respect, prayer and trust requires a relationship. We need to care enough about someone to listen to them, to get to know them. We need to let them speak without interruption or correction. We need to show kindness and interest. Only after we do these things will we earn the right to be listened to.

Alpha is the place to do just this.

Alpha Dinner is free. Our Alpha team members are the most joyful, fun people who just enjoy meeting someone new. After socializing and eating a great meal, we'll watch a video on a topic of the most basic gospel message. Then we will listen to what our guests have to say - without correcting, bible-thumping, teaching, judging, we will give them the respect of allowing them to be heard. Meanwhile, our prayer team will be spending the time actively praying for our guests, trusting that the Holy Spirit will come to do what He does so well.

If our guests decide that Alpha isn't for them, then that is okay. No one will force them to come back. But if they do come back, each Alpha dinner and video will dig a little deeper into the Gospel message. And over time, a level of trust is built. Their hearts will become open to an encounter with God.

I urge you to pray fervently that God may use you to bring a soul to Him. Ask Him to put the name of a person in your thoughts, an image of a face in your mind. All you have to do is invite this person to dinner on Monday, September 9 at 6:30 pm in the Hall here at St Michael's or Sunday, September 8 at 5:00 pm at St Charles. That's it! They may say no. That doesn't matter. We measure success by how many we invite, not by how many agree to come. You get a free meal too!
