honoring of mother and father. Humility or meekness, then, seems to represent the foundational disposition that sums up the foregoing counsels to wisdom, to honor God and our parents. And the search for wisdom herself, too, requires that one recognize the limitations of a finite creature before the infinite God.

Second Reading

You have approached Jesus, the mediator of a new covenant (Hebrews 12:18-19, 22-24a).

Recall from earlier commentaries that Hebrews is likely addressed to those Jews who are struggling with a temptation to return to the practice of Mosaic Judaism. Here the author makes a comparison between the events that surrounded the making of the Mosaic covenant on Mount Sinai—"and a very loud trumpet blast, so that all the people in the camp trembled" (see Exodus 19:16-21)—with the covenant that Jesus made with us on the hill of Calvary on the Mount of Jerusalem. This new covenant, made not in the blood of bulls but in the blood of Christ, gives us access to the true Mount Zion above, in heaven. Zion was the hill of the Temple and the place where Israel worshiped and so it represented Israel at its Mosaic best.

But Jesus is now in the heavenly Temple surrounded by all the angels and saints leading us invisibly in the perfect; "with which we should offer worship pleasing to God in reverence and awe" (Hebrews 12:28) that only he can offer. Though that liturgy above is invisible, faith, which is "the assurance of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen" (Hebrews 11:1, RVS), gives us a kind of vision of that Temple and its liturgy, which, unlike the Jerusalem Temple which fell in 70 A.D.: "we who are receiving the unshakable king-

Seeking the Lowest Place Reflection by Opening the Word

First Reading

Conduct your affairs with humility and God will favor you (Sirach 3:17-18, 20, 28-29).

The biblical book that we just call "Sirach" is a collection of wisdom sayings by a Jewish sage named Yeshua Ben Sirach, written as many as three centuries before Christ. It was used in the early Christian Church as a moral catechesis for those seeking Baptism. In this passage, Ben Sirach counsels us on the importance of humility, which, as regards its place in the spiritual life, St. Jean Vianney compared to the chain of the rosary, holding everything else together. This counsel comes after that in the first two chapters on fear of the Lord and then the first part of the present chapter (3) which encourages the dom should have gratitude” (Hebrews 12:28). The appeal the author of Hebrews makes to these former Jews is that faith must keep us true to Christ and to the covenant of love he forms with us.

Gospel Reading

When invited to dine, take the lowest place. Those who humble themselves will be exalted (Luke 14:1, 7-14).

Luke’s Gospel makes a primary theme of table fellowship. In this chapter, Jesus is attending a dinner and then gives two lessons, one to the invited guests and one to the host of the dinner who had invited them, about how to dine in the kingdom and then tells a parable about a rich landowner and the banquet he throws. In each case the lesson is that the humble are favored in this kingdom that Jesus announces.

Those who have some status should seek the lowest place at table, he says. As St. Paul says—echoing his Lord—“Have the same regard for one another; do not be haughty but associate with the lowly; do not be wise in your own estimation” (Romans 12:16). Those who host should invite the lowly who cannot repay, so that God can repay. This is a common Old Testament and rabbinical theme, that God pays the debts of the poor, compensating those who give alms. Lastly, in the verses following those in our reading, Jesus tells a parable about a landowner who follows a very different pattern of hospitality and throws a party inviting his own class of people, none of whom accepts his invitation. So he sends his servants to bring in “the poor, the crippled, the lame, the blind” (Luke 14:21). When his house is still not full he asks that everyone his servants can find be pressed to come, finishing with the phrase, “For, I tell you, none of those men who were invited will taste my dinner” (Luke 14:24).

The common interpretation of this parable is that those like Jesus’ host, a Pharisee who is described as “observing” Jesus, ostensibly to catch him in some infraction of the Law, will find their covenant invitations pulled and their places given to lowly covenant outsiders who will respond better to the compulsion of God’s grace and enter the heavenly banquet. So, in the kingdom of God being an “A-list” invitee is less important than giving a generous response to the graces we receive, whenever they come.

For Meditation and Discussion

In the Gospel reading, Jesus encourages us not to seek out situations where we can draw praise and attention to ourselves, but to “take the lowest place.” What are some ways we can put this into practice? In other words, how might we seek out taking a “lower place” in our families, workplace, parish, or communities?

Prayerfully ask Jesus to show you some ways you can be more humble like him and to choose the “lower place.” Come up with at least one resolution for this next week to help you avoid seeking the recognition and honor of this world and live out humility more in your life.

Opening the Word offers prayers and insights for the Sunday Scriptural lessons. Featuring videos designed to facilitate thought and discussion for faith formation, Personal Prayer Journals and a Group Leader’s Guide, Opening the Word helps you to make the most of the Sunday readings. Opening the Word is one of many programs available at Formed.org.

Prayers

Our Parishioners' Prayer Requests

For the intentions of Robert Makepeace.

For the repose of the soul of Marilyn (Rita) Estill.

For all the souls in purgatory.

For the people of the United States, that we may be united in building a society in which everyone can have the opportunity to live with dignity and hope.

For the Church, that we may be a witness to Christ's love by practicing charity and promoting justice and peace throughout the world.

For Catholics throughout our nation, that the values of our faith may guide us as we exercise our responsibility as voters.

For the members of this community, that we may find ways to help build a world of greater respect for human life and human dignity.

For those who serve in elected office, that they may lead with courage and wisdom, reflecting the Church's teaching that the moral test of our society is how the weak, the poor, and the vulnerable are faring.

For all citizens of the United States, that our participation in the upcoming election may lead to a world of greater respect for life and commitment to justice and peace.

For those who are suffering from poverty and injustice, that our decisions this election year may lead to policies and programs that help them live in dignity.

For the earth, that our nation's leaders will be inspired by God's Spirit to protect all of His creation.

For workers around the world, especially children who work long hours for little pay, that we might all seek ways to promote fairness, justice, and dignity in their lives.

For leaders around world, that they might find ways to bring an end to war and violence, and promote peace and development for all nations.

We pray to the Lord

Thanks for the Warm Welcome!

Thank you, St. Michael community, for your warm welcome of our new members in RCIA (Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults) and our newly Confirmed parishioner.

Candidates Darrel McHargue and BeLinda Daves, catechumen Holly Wilkins, and newly-confirmed Brett Bodenmiller were graciously overwhelmed by the support of this community. They are so appreciative of your participation in our recent rites, your applause and congratulations, and the prayers and good wishes of so many who made it a point to speak to them after Mass.

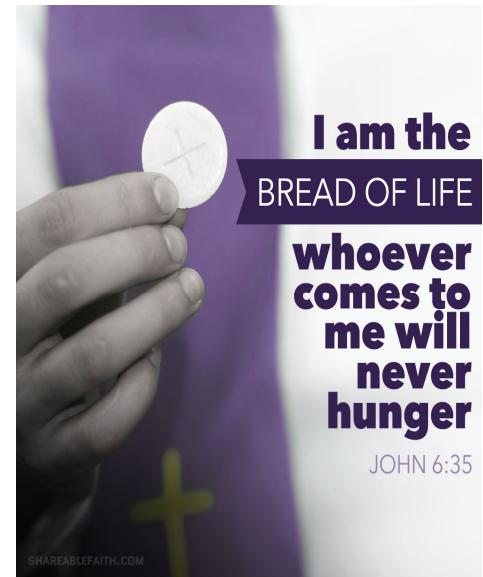

RCIA is the process through which adults prepare to receive the Sacraments of Baptism, First Communion and Confirmation to be fully-initiated Catholics.

Adoration

What is Eucharistic Adoration?

Eucharistic Adoration is adoring or honoring Jesus, who is fully present in Eucharist. In a deeper sense, it involves contemplating on the Mystery of Christ truly present before us. During Eucharistic Adoration, we strive to settle our minds in order to become still in His Presence. We open ourselves to His Graces which flow from the Eucharist. Then, like a magnet, the Lord draws us to Himself and gently transforms us. In Eucharistic Adoration it is God and man reaching out for each other, at the same time!

Chapel Info

The chapel is open 24 hours per day, 7 days per week.

The outer door is locked between 10 pm and 6:00 am. To obtain the access code, please call Dick at 925-980-4826 or Manny 925-337-0741 in advance.

From the parking lot, walk toward the church along the courtyard walkway. Enter the second door on the right. The chapel is ahead on the left.

Can You Commit to One Hour Per Week?

All are welcome to come spend time in the Adoration chapel at any time, for at any length of time. However, in order to ensure that the Lord is never left unattended, over 500 parishioners have agreed to commit to one hour of Adoration each week. We have a few hours where very few people are signed up. Can you commit to one hour per week?

Mondays at 4:00 am
Tuesdays at 5:00 pm or 9:00 pm

What is Faith Formation?

It's a Comprehensive Religious Education

The parent's role as "first teacher" is irreplaceable. Parents teach and bear witness to Catholic faith, morality, prayer and religious practice through their example in word and action. However, the Church also recognizes a need for a formal, comprehensive and systematic religious education concerning the faith.

Register Your Child Each Year

The religious curriculum that children receive in their Faith Formation classes builds upon itself from year to year. Even if you do not plan for your child to receive a sacrament during the current school year, the content of what your child will learn will help them grow in their faith and enter into deeper communion and intimacy with the person of Jesus.

Preparation to Receive Sacraments

In order to receive a sacrament (Baptism, First Communion, Confirmation), children must be registered and regularly attend Faith Formation classes, in order to adequately prepare for that sacrament.

How to Sign Up My Kids

Registration packets are available in the church office, Faith Formation office, or www.StMichaelLivermore.com. Please return them to the Faith Formation office M-Th between 9:30 am - 4:00 pm.

Classes in English are on Wednesdays from 4:00 - 5:30 pm, starting October 5th.

Classes in Spanish are on Fridays 5:00 - 6:30 pm, starting October 7th.
